- Character Card System In ELDEN RING, a card system has been developed that you collect and use to defend yourself. Collect different game cards with various abilities and equip them in your character's card slots. You'll begin with two types of cards, and when you're attacked, you'll be able to use your cards to avoid damage or attack the enemy. Through your actions, your character's card index will increase, and cards with high index will be activated first. Through your actions and the cards that you activate, your character will gain EXP that you can use to enhance the abilities of your cards and strengthen them. Although the number of cards that you can equip can be increased by earning EXP, there are many different attacks that your character can use as well, and the balance between your defense and offense will be optimized.
