Madras Cafe (2013) -.Optimization of protein A purification with affinity chromatography. Protein A, the prototype of protein A-like proteins, is currently of great interest because of the difficulty in the production of a reproducible product for use in the purification of immunoglobulins. This work addresses the problem of optimizing the protein A from an Escherichia coli lysate by using ion exchange chromatography. Continuous monitoring and experimentation showed that at low concentrations of the protein LPS-2, almost 100% of the protein A could be recovered at the beginning of the purification, whereas at higher protein concentrations only about half of the protein could be recovered. The removal of the protein LPS-2 by gel filtration increased the yield to over 90%.2015-16 Shamrock Rovers F.C. season The 2015-16 season was Shamrock Rovers's second season in the Premier Division of the Republic of Ireland's football league system, having been promoted from the First Division, FAI Cup, League of Ireland Cup and the Champions League.
