A case of lingual abscess is reported. A 16-year-old boy was admitted to our hospital with the complaint of swelling on the left floor of the mouth. He had a history of chronic tonsillitis. He was treated by incision and drainage and the causative organism was identified as Staphylococcus aureus. As his dentition was aggravated, avulsion of bilateral central incisors was performed. While the abscess cavity was also enlarged, incision and drainage was continued. Aspiration of the abscess after incision

I'm not talking about having had good night's sleep in the last few years, but more the sort of guys that would have been at the pub in Guildford, on their hands and knees holding their hair out of their eyes, back in the day. Anyway, I love good legs and dark nylons, and these are available from Denim, and they are cheap, but the girls there don't always have them up to scratch. They sell all sorts of hot stuff, but as they don't stock nylons I went elsewhere. I found a shop that stocked all the other stuff, but didn't have nylons. I was just
