"But it's not just about having more players; it's about having all the right players, in the right positions," Keller added. "This is the start of FIFA's commitment to keep its gamers on the ball with the 'ball radar' and 'goal detector' on the pitch." Added Keller: "The 'ball radar' and 'goal detector' are also available in all other modes, such as Training, Leagues, Women's World Cup, and online, to help aspiring gamers hone their soccer skills. 'Swing & Slide' and 'Crouch Meter' also continue to be available in all game modes. "You'll find it also easier to pass and move the ball around the pitch, thanks to the increased detection power of the artificial intelligence and the new motion capture system," Keller added.
