Griffin Smartphone cameras and video equipment are now available for every senior citizen and caregiver who wants to create and share personal video messages and images of their loved ones. You don't need a professional production crew, pricey video editing software, or a $100,000 budget for a live production like you might for a TV commercial, theatrical performance, or music video. The term "telepresence" means "a place where you are present by being elsewhere." In the world of video production and editing, telepresence is a robust tool that lets you take video and images of yourself and your loved one(s) and relive their stories and bring them "here." Telepresence is a great way to share your images and remember them in a way that you can't do when
