A: It's because ur field is being rendered into an input field with a name specified with a length attribute. length can be set to 0 to disable the validation, but it will also remove the field, which is what you don't want to happen. If you remove this attribute, it will work fine. I don't know if this is a bug or an intended feature of the framework, but it has been around a long time, so it must be intended. It is known that polymers have long been used as primary packaging for individual doses of various consumable products, particularly medical products, such as pharmaceuticals. Illustrative of this packaging is U.S. Pat. No. 5,032,231 which discloses a stretch wrap material having a support fabric, a metallized release-coated film adhered to one side of the support fabric, and a pressure sensitive adhesive coated on the other side of the support fabric to which is adhered the package film. Primary packaging is also used for many types of non-food products. An example is U.S. Pat. No. 4,891,255 which discloses a flexible bag for packaging of a plurality of blow-molded plastic articles having a spout opening at the top. Another example is U.S. Pat. No. 6,398,539 which discloses a tear-off liner used in the manufacture of blow-molded plastic articles. In recent years, there has been a growing demand for primary packaging made from recycled materials. Such packaging enables the saved fiber and plastic material to be recycled and reprocessed into new items or products, thereby reducing waste disposal problems and conserving finite raw materials. While single-use primary packaging is usually made of virgin materials, recyclable primary packaging must be made from recycled materials. Examples of recycled primary packaging are provided in U.S. Pat. Nos. 6,102,893 and 6,253,602 both of which disclose a composite-film bag comprising a continuous polyolefin film with a laminated layer of oriented polypropylene film. The laminated layer has first and second surfaces, which are pressure sensitive adhesive (PSA) bonded to the polyolefin film. The PSA on the second surface of the laminate is 6d1f23a050
