The newly-released game currently features 11 carnivorous dinosaurs, 10 herbivores, and 4 unplayable prehistoric creatures. The current available Carnivores are Alioramus, Allosaurus, Ceratosaurus, Concavenator, Daspletosaurus, Deinonychus, Latenivenatrix, Metriacanthosaurus, Sarcosuchus, Spinosaurus, and Suchomimus. During Carnivores: Dinosaur Hunt, there are times where you need to make split second decisions about your actions. If you get frozen, or if you get too close to the dinosaurs, you will lose any precious time. The difficulty in Carnivores: Dinosaur Hunt is also very strong and requires careful thought when making decisions because you could accidentally get eaten and find yourself on the shortlist for the game to end. The shooting mechanics are very simple. If you click on a dinosaur, you will aim for where you would like to shoot at. If you click, and move your aim, you are doing fine. If you see an area on the map that you would like to find yourself in, you can even place markers where you want to move and not the game. While playing the game, you can actually track the movements of the dinosaurs as you play. The hunter will be shown in red, the dinosaur in blue, and areas that could possibly be dinosaurs in gray. Once you get your hands on a dinosaur, you can pick them up and carry them anywhere on the map. Want to use your special skills, and you are in the middle of a hunt? Simply wait for the relevant dinosaurs to appear and you can easily examine them. Whenever you get a special scan, you have up to ten seconds to use it before it expires.
