I am new to Python and have just begun using Conda. I am using Python 3.6.3 and Windows 10. I am having trouble installing Tensorflow. I want to use Tensorflow 2.0.0 with Python 3.6.3. I have the Windows Anaconda distribution. From the Tensorflow site it gives a clear explanation of the installation process: If you want to use Python version 3.5 (32-bit) with Python 2 (64-bit) then you can use anaconda3-5.1.0-Windows-x86_64. You can download and install TensorFlow from the Python package index. I then copied the c:\Miniconda3-latest\conda-bld\TensorFlow-2.0.0-cp35-cp35m-win_amd64.whl file to a directory on my Windows desktop. I ran the following instructions from the Tensorflow site: conda activate base conda config --set always_yes yes conda install -c rhel-6 numpy setuptools scipy tensorflow However, after running the last command, I get the following error message: Failed building wheel for numexpr==2.4.2 MSVC linker error: fatal error LNK1104: cannot open file 'libnumpysdlib.lib' I have found the libnumpysdlib.lib file in C:\Miniconda3-latest\conda-bld umpy-1.14.1-cp35-cp35m-win_amd64.whl umpy\core\src\multiarray\shared\src umpy\type_check.c, which means the numpy package has already been installed and seems to be working fine. What do I need to do to fix this error and successfully install Tensorflow? Is there another issue here that I am not considering? A: You should take this error message seriously. According to the log file it links with numpy 1.14 (whereas the most recent version is 1.12
